Chamber to meet

On Tuesday, Nov. 29, the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry will present Adeline J. Geo-Karis, Republican senator from Illinois as the featured speaker for the final ongoing educational seminar for the year.

The Tower Room is the place, the time is noon, and the cost is $7.50 per person. All members and guests as well as the general public is invited to attend.

Senator Geo-Karis' topic will be, "Legislative Highlights of The Past Session." For more information and to make reservations call Dixie at the Chamber, (312) 395-2233.

Help Santa

According to Dan DeFosse, the letters to and from Santa Claus are already coming in. Santa has already received 50 letters, some from as far away as Florida, Texas and New York.

Antioch has really become the international Santa headquarters.

DeFosse said that the program is in need of help. Anyone willing to donate stationary, envelopes, stamps, a logo stamp or money toward the letters going out of 100 Toyland Rd., Antioch, please get in touch with DeFosse.

Not only does a letter from Santa, answering their letter, help countless children have a merrier Christmas, but this program is really introducing the world to Antioch.

School boards Few voters elect new members

Following school board elections, the Antioch Grade School Dist. 34 Board will have a new board member, while incumbents held off a challenge by four newcomers.

Voter turnout was very light, only 13 percent countywide.

Phyllis Zora and incumbent Bruce Jablonski ran unopposed for two-year terms on the board. Zora had 492 votes and Jablonski 556.

Zora is a registered nurse with a community health masters degree, is married, with two children in the district.

In spirited competition for three, four-year seats on the board, incumbents Jimmie Quedenfeld, Gail Heath and Garnet Cook won re-election. Vote totals were Quedenfeld (405), Heath (384), Cook (337). Other candidates were Roy Pomrening (317), William Feezor (204), Marie Gedville (171), Robert Olson (161).

Two new board members defeated two incumbents in one of the most hotly contested school board races in the area, that at Grass Lake School.

Ardeen Harris won election to a four-year term, defeating incumbent John Flesham, and Judy Hansen won election to a two-year term, defeating incumbent Henry Nohava. Other incumbents won re-election.

For four-year terms, Greg LaPlante led

Jam rocks Antioch

That was no earthquake that rocked the Village of Antioch on Sunday morning between 1 and 3 a.m., it was a jam session held in St. Peters auditorium.

In what has been called one of the biggest and best Antioch parties ever, much of the entertainment crew from "Footlights" took over the stage and had "the joint rocking for two hours."

Hundreds of patrons gathered in the "Palace" to hear the group from the "Grease" room because they had been unable to get in as they played to standing room only audiences both weekends.

"Grease" was joined on the main stage by "Smiles" from the "Palace," Ernie Levas and the E. L. Express and the "Blues Brothers" from "Calamity's Saloon," as hundreds of flailing bodies danced into the early morning hours.

2 men from Antioch remember Halas

by GLORIA DAVIS

Although the recent passing of George "Papa Bear" Halas was of notable import to football and Chicago Bear fans everywhere, that loss might have had a special meaning to two local residents.

Former Antioch Mayor James McMillen, who has been seriously ill and bedridden for over a year, would be greatly saddened by the news of the death of his good friend, but his wife, Phyllis hasn't informed him of the death, saying that "that kind of information would serve no purpose to a man in his condition."

McMillen played right guard to Halas' end for the Bears, for five years, starting in 1924.

"We remained friends for the last 60 years," said Phyllis, adding that, as ill as Halas had been in recent months, he still remembered to send flowers to his old friend, McMillen, every few weeks until just before his death.

Antioch boasts of an even earlier friend of Halas', Clarence (Shrimp) Tornquist, 85, a native of Waukegan, who has lived in Antioch for the last eight years.

Tornquist played quarterback with the Bears when they were

Sequoits a family affair

by GLORIA DAVIS

It seems that the North Suburban Conference Champion football team, the Antioch Sequoits, owes some of its success to the fact that the 1983 Sequoits were a real family affair.

It is not often that a varsity football team can boast of four sets of brothers, including two sets of twins.

"Not only were they all good football players," said Coach Steve Wapon, "but they are all really nice kids, easy to like and very coachable. They are the kind of players that make a coach's job fun," he added.

Twins Gene and Dean Elrod, both Sequoit senior linebackers, were a vital part of the Antioch football scene for all four of their high school years.

"These boys are perfect examples of the kind of player that, though not always in the limelight, are good, dependable, and always working for the good of the team."

"Although they love all sports, my boys have been involved in football since they were in sixth grade," said their mother, Rose.

The Elrods also help their dad, Jerry, coach the Antioch Vikings.

Both may be heading for the University of Wisconsin at Platteville next year. Dean leans towards journalism, both like social studies.

The next set of Sequoit twins are John and Frank Mahar. John is one of the running backs that won the player of the week award in the Sequoits' quest for the conference championship.

Frank plays defensive end and both started on last year's championship team as well as this year's.

"Not only are these very good football players and good in their studies, as if they didn't have a heavy enough schedule, they also have an early morning paper route," said Wapon.

The Mahars, both seniors, are college bound but haven't decided where yet.

Jamie and Willie Werhane, brothers above and under the skin, also were part of the backbone of the champion Sequoits.

Jamie, a senior, out for football for the first time in Antioch, played linebacker. Willie, a junior, played on the freshman team at Deerfield High School after starting his grid career with the Deerfield Park Dist. team.

Jamie, who is college bound next year, is also a wrestler, track-man and cross country runner.

Wapon said that Jamie "contributed greatly to the Sequoits' success this year," adding that he was expecting as good or better from Willie next year because of the great promise he had shown.

Math and history are the Werhanes' academic fortes.

The McGrain brothers were not both on the Sequoit varsity team all season. Mike was quarterbacking the sophomore team until play-off time came.

"We needed him as the third quarterback to back-up John Humphreys and Eric Birkhaug, so we brought him up," said Wapon.

"Matt was a two-year starter at center and probably the spirit leader of the team," Wapon added.

Matt was also chosen one of the players of the week that brought a $100 award to a special high school fund. Wapon credited him with the great ability of getting the team fired-up when necessary.

Both McGrain boys come by their love of football naturally with their dad, Leo, having started the Antioch Viking Junior Football League back in 1970 when the boys were in grade school.

"The boys were really down, especially Matt, when they lost Wednesday," said their father, "but they snap back fast."

Hartman bowls 276

The youth bowling program at Antioch Bowling Lanes has been under way for two months. They are bowling under the jurisdiction of the Young American Bowling Alliance (YABA) which is nationwide.

In the program a youth bowler can earn emblem awards which are based on the bowlers age.

The National YABA association also gives a silver medallion to any boy bowling a 260 game or higher or a 700 series or higher. Girls bowling a 225 game or higher or a 600 series or higher also receive a medallion.

Brian Hartman was the first youth bowler to earn such an award at Antioch Bowling Lanes when he bowled a 267 game on Oct. 8. He had a 667 series and also received two emblems and two plaques from the Illinois State BPA.

Dale Steiskal also excelled on that day when he bowled a 234 game with a 642 series. He received two emblem awards, two plaques from the Illinois State BPA and also a special emblem award for 100 pins over average.

Matt is looking at several colleges with Winona State a forerunner.

Mike plays basketball and Matt is also in wrestling, so Mrs. McGrain has had her share of athletics for many years and after a multitude of uniform washings, she said she finally showed the boys how to do it two years ago.

Viking Seniors May 19 clinch division Set mental health dance date

The Antioch Viking seniors visited Mundelein Sunday, Nov. 6, with one thought in mind, to beat the Mundelein seniors in order to clinch the Central Division Championship of the Northern Illinois Junior Tackle Football League.

The Viking seniors dominated the game, both offensively and defensively, and came away with an impressive 22-0 win.

Leading the seniors with two touchdowns was Bernad Hannigan with runs of 15 and one yard.

A third touchdown was scored by tailback Jim Kein on a one yard dive.

Of special note was a successful 27 yard field goal kicked by David Wick.

In junior tackle football it is most difficult to kick an extra point let alone a 27 yard fieldgoal.

The game was won both offensively and defensively in the trenches. The offensive line was led by Larry Miller, David Wick, Brian Buszta, Jeremy Johnson, Troy Schroeder and Bill Letkey.

The defense was led by Troy Schroeder who leads the defense in quarterbacks sacks and tackles.

Middle line backer, Brendan Hannigan, corner backs, Brandon Parkhurst and Mike Warren had an excellent game.

The Viking seniors earned a play-off berth by beating Mundelein. Both the Viking juniors and seniors were scheduled to their first play-off game on Wednesday, Nov. 9 in the evening.

The site for the play-offs was to be Carmel High School in Mundelein.

The Viking juniors are scheduled to open at 6:15 p.m. versus Mundelein. The Viking seniors are scheduled to play Fox Lake, Lakeland Cardinal senior team at approximately 8 p.m.

Regional trustees elected

Three candidates were elected to six-year terms on the Lake County Regional School Board. Three candidates ran for the three, six-year terms.

Candidates and vote totals are Susan Thompson, 14,895; William Brook, 13,469; and Edward (Ted) Anderson, 13,873.

It takes 32,000 flowers to make one pound of saffron.

Set mental health dance date

The Antioch Mental Health Assn. met Monday, Nov. 7, at the Antioch Township Library. President Dolores Abderholden, conducted the meeting.

Dorothy Teister, chairman of the 1984 cotillion announced that the cotillion would be held May 19, at the Abbey on Lake Geneva.

Dancing will be to the music of "Nitelife". The committees for the cotillion are: Chairman Dorothy Teister, Co-Chairman Lorraine Santi, tickets, Dolores Abderholden and

"K" Costoff, patron list, Thema Anderson and Edna Barr and publicity, Phyllis Bucar.

It was voted to donate $550 to the Antioch Library to purchase Learning Materials for the Learning Disabled or Mentally Handicapped child.

It was voted to donate $10,000 to Grove School in Lake Forest, $3,000 to the Riverside Foundation in Lincolnshire and $2,000 to Lambs Farm in Libertyville.

Dolores Abderholden announced that Phyllis Bucar is a new Grove School board member. She was elected at the annual meeting and 25th anniversary celebration which was held at the Deer Path Inn in Lake Forest on Oct. 26.

The next meeting will be Feb. 6, at which time cotillion plans will be well under way.

Upset in CLC election

The unexpected upset of incumbent CLC Board Member A.J. Katzenmaier, Grayslake, turned what many expected to be a ho-hum election into a focal point of discussion following balloting Nov. 8.

Nan Fairhurst, Long Grove, an unsuccessful candidate for the office of Lake County Treasurer in 1982, turned in the highest vote totals of the three candidates seeking two, six-year terms on the board.

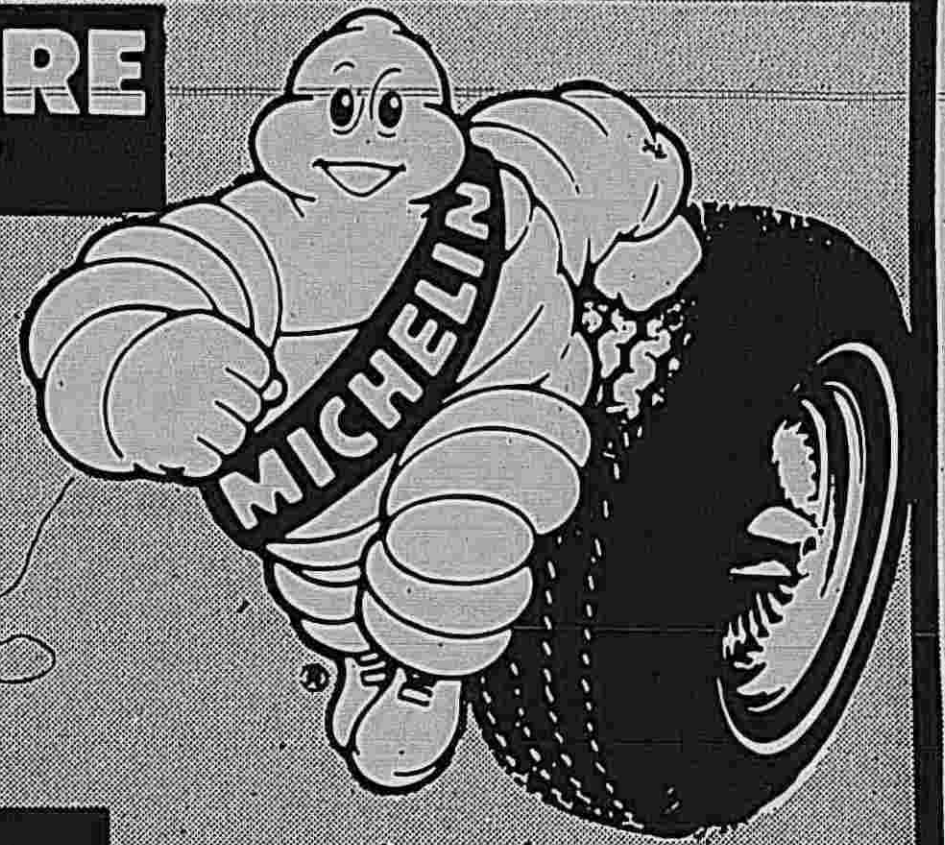

Final vote totals were Fairhurst, 10,053; Richard Bryan, 929; and Katzenmaier, 9,577.

The difference between first and last was only 476 votes.

Along the way with ANNIE MAE

An Antioch resident wrote into Annie Mae, asking why Mayor Ray Toft's car, the one he used in the homecoming parade a few weeks ago, had Wisconsin license plates.

Toft explains that all his trucks and cars are licensed to his business which operates out of Wisconsin. He's talking about the Wilmot and Lake Geneva racetracks.

"If they'd let me put a racetrack in Lake County I'd love it and be more than happy to operate my business and license my vehicles in Illinois," Toft said.

Toft said that Lake County zoning prohibited race tracks in the county.

When I think about it It's surprise time again

by GLORIA DAVIS

Well it's time again for a "one woman's family" column, so if you're expecting something on the world situation turn to the daily headlines.

Those die hards that have been reading this column for any length of time know that my children have a penchant for pulling surprises on their mother and a few Saturdays ago, they slipped in another one.

Now the surprise birthday party that they threw for me at the home of one of my sons was lovely, but not too unusual. The way my husband got me to my son's house in Genoa City, when I thought I was heading for a business dinner in Milwaukee, was.

Traveling on the premise that I usually fall asleep a few minutes after I hit the passenger seat in the car, especially on a nighttime trip, my husband's plan was to quickly switch directions and wake me up as we arrived at the party place.

I guess I inadvertently gave him a hard time because I stayed awake almost to I-94, causing him to backtrack almost an hour's worth after I finally nodded off.

Waking up in a strange subdivision to have your husband suddenly flip his lid and start driving through an empty lot towards a brightly lit unrecognizable home was the biggest surprise of all.

If one of my sons had not walked past that window just then, my collapse might have been complete since I've never seen my son's home from that vantage point, notwithstanding the disorientation brought about by the darkness.

I must add that my upstanding citizen of a spouse had previously gotten permission from the owner of the lot for his little escape.

It was a great party, but again nothing out of the ordinary. Some of the gifts I received tend to go a little far rubbing in the number of my advancing years, one in particular, a bright red sweatshirt with my age emblazoned in foot high letters on it comes to mind.

Oh well I could always say that was the year I was born! And I must admit the book on keeping cool during a hot flash contains many interesting tidbits.

The real surprise and the evening's piece de resistance was a "This is Your Life" video tape done by the son who is in the video taping business.

Now I know how the guests of Ralph Edwards felt when they were caught with their backgrounds hanging out.

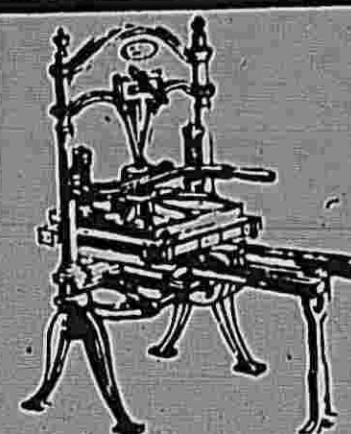

I didn't mind all the baby pictures, but when my son's narrative inferred they were taped from tintypes, I took umbrage. Using an old picture taken in an 18th century buckboard, labeling it "Gloria heading out for a BIG SCOOP!" went too far.

The continuous use of the same obvious bathroom door, from which several out-of-town family members emerged after a loud flushing sound to bid me a "happy", was hilarious, especially when only the voices of those he was unable to visually tape, came from behind the same door.

The best part of the whole tape came when my gorgeous talented daughter donned a blunt wig and became Roseanna Dana's cousin Lorna Dooneadanna and, doing an almost perfect Gilda Radner, came across with a dissertation on the penchant I have for yawning and head bobbing while covering meetings, "with that white stuff coming from the corner of her mouth."

The unknown shots taken by the video taper, that used to be my son, as I nodded on the couch while watching tv, make-up-less and pajama clad, at 2 a.m. one morning, all used to illustrate her narrative, were really unfair to middle-aged woman kind, but I must admit hysterical.

All in all, I loved it and am eagerly looking forward to their next surprise!

called the Decatur Staleys, starting in 1919. Halas played end on that team. In 1921 when they became the Bears, Tornquist was still the quarterback and Halas one of the ends.

Although he saw Halas at a few public occasions after his five-year stint with the Bears, Tornquist said that he had really lost contact with him and was saddened by the news of his death.

Tornquist went from football to the postal service, working at the post office for 13 years.

He later went to work at Meadowgold Dairies, retiring from there after 22 years of service.

LOSING BATTLE AGAINST BUCKS — Antioch Sequoits, North Suburban Conference champs, put up good fight as they bowed to Belvidere Bucks in first playoff game, 26-13, played at Belvidere on Wednesday, Nov. 9. In picture on right, Quarterback John Humphreys gets ready for handoff to John Mahar.

Sequoits bow to Belvidere, 26-13

by MICHAEL H. BABICZ

Antioch's varsity football team concluded a most successful season somewhat short of its goals as the Sequoits were eliminated from the Illinois High School Assn. (IHSA) Class 5A playoffs in a 26-13 loss at Belvidere on Nov. 9.

"It's easy to lose an entire season in a single ball game," Steve Wapon, veteran Antioch head coach, cautioned.

"We played a good football team," he complimented the Bucs, who were defeated 17-14 by Glenbard West in the quarterfinals on Nov. 12.

"The loss stings," he continued. "As a team and program, we had set very high goals which we didn't realize."

"When you set high goals, you risk getting hurt by not making it," he admitted.

"We're proud of the season," he stressed, noting Antioch's 9-0 regular season mark which saw the Sequoits undisputed champions in their first season of North Suburban Conference (NSC) competition.

The nine victories in one year is a school record, as is the fact that the Sequoits went undefeated.

"It's something our players can be proud of," he stressed, admitting that the early playoff loss will, unfortunately, stick in their minds for some time.

"Speaking for the team, I'd like to say thank you to those people who supported us," he stressed, noting that despite the game being on a school night, with rainy conditions and potential storms looming in the area, the Sequoits still had a huge following make the long trip to the west.

In conclusion, Wapon said, as he had previously told his team following the loss, that when it's all over, "there's only going to be six happy people (teams) in the state of Illinois."

In the game, which was played with a steady mist which sometimes became as heavy as a brief downpour during the game played before a large, vocal, standing room only crowd, the Sequoits struck first in the game of big plays.

With 0:13 remaining in the first quarter, Antioch senior quarterback John Humphreys connected on a 50-yard touchdown pass to senior runningback Rod Steiskal for the opening points of the game.

Humphreys kicked the extra point to put the Sequoits up 7-0.

The Bucs cut the deficit to one point with a 24-yard touchdown pass with 10:06 remaining in the opening half.

A two-point conversion pass attempt was incomplete keeping Antioch in front 7-6.

The Bucs took a 12-7 lead on a 66-yard touchdown pass as the long bombs continued despite the wet conditions.

The conversion pass attempt was incomplete leaving the Sequoits trailing 13-12 with 6:31 to go in the opening half.

Antioch's Ray Rugebregt, junior defensive back, intercepted a Buc aerial on the first play of the third quarter.

A 49-yard screen pass from Humphreys to Ed Silva, who was caught from behind, set up a Antioch score which put the Sequoits back in front.

John Mahar ran for two yards with Humphreys carrying the ball in front the two-yard-line on a keeper to put Antioch back in front.

The extra point kick attempt by Humphreys was blocked by the Buc defense leaving the Sequoits with a slim one-point, 13-12 lead with 9:10 remaining in the third quarter.

Belvidere quick kicked the Sequoits deep into their own territory on the next series with Antioch starting at its own 11-yard-line.

After beginning to move the ball out somewhat, Humphreys had trouble handling the wet ball as he attempted to set up for a pass and fumbled with Belvidere recovering at the Sequoit 37-yard-line with 4:37 remaining in the quarter.

Seven plays later, aided by a pass interference penalty against the Sequoits which put the Bucs on the Antioch eight-yard-line, Belvidere took the lead on a nine-yard touchdown pass play during which the Sequoit defender covering slipped on the wet turf in the end zone.

Antioch's Frank Mahar intercepted the Buc's two-point conversion pass attempt leaving Antioch trailing 18-13 with 1:56 remaining in the third quarter.

In the fourth quarter, Belvidere partially blocked a Sequoit punt giving the Bucs the ball on their own 42-yard-line with 8:37 remaining in the game.

Belvidere ground its way down the field to eventually score on a six-yard touchdown pass which virtually closed the Sequoit season with 3:37 remaining.

The Bucs added the two-point conversion with a run to expand their lead to 26-13. For the game, Antioch had 11 first downs to 15 for Belvidere.

The Bucs, not known as a passing team, adjusted to Antioch's taking the ground game away by completing 11 of 19 attempts for 197 yards and four touchdowns.

Antioch, on the other hand, had Humphreys completing 14 of 30 for 222 yards, one touchdown, but had four interceptions.

Both teams had 55 of-fensive plays.

The big difference was the four interceptions with each team losing one fumble to the other.

THE Entertainer

ACHS to do 'Scarecrow'

A journey into early American "mythology" is promised to those who attend the Antioch Community High School production of "The Scarecrow".

This "comedy of the ludicrous" is based on the short story "Feathertop" by the famous American writer Nathaniel Hawthorne, adapted for the stage by the early 20th century playwright Percy MacKaye.

The storyline is a simple one: Satan and a witch, as a practical joke, turn a scarecrow into a living human being and send him out into the world. The scarecrow's adventures reveal the irony of human existence and the ultimate power of the human spirit.

Featured in this production, directed by Ken Smouse, will be: Erik Hansen, Clare Gilliland, Norman Pomrening, Kris Kauth, Kara Smith, Barrette June Schugart, Scott Trezise, Scott Anderson, Christie Hubbard, Catarina Tossman, Dennis Tracy, Ed Rowe, Erika Olson, Philip Fabry and Kim Rymut. The director is being assisted by Wendy Fabry, stage manager.

The production will run three nights, Thursday, Friday and Saturday Nov. 17, 18 and 19 with curtain for all three performances at 8 p.m.

Tickets are available from all members of the cast and at the door, adults $3 and students and senior citizens $1.50.

'HEAVEN' TO OPEN — An angry Max Levene, played by Frank DiMarco of Zion, right, vents his anger on conniving Tony Abbot, Ralph Ferguson, center, to amusement of Angel, played by Chris Lindberg, in upcoming Pm?&L Theater's production of "Heaven Can Wait," slated to open on Friday, Nov. 18.

APPEAR IN 'SCARECROW' — Kara Smith, as Rachel, and Norman Pomrening as Lord Ravensbane, the scarecrow, shown rehearsing Antioch High School's production of "Scarecrow", opening Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Nov. 17, 18, 19, at 8 p.m..

Patricia Marie Martin

A daughter, Patricia Marie, was born Nov. 2 at Luke Air Force Base Hospital, Glendale, Ariz., to Paul and Patsy Martin Jr. of Luke AFB. Grandparents are Paul and Pat Martin Sr. of Antioch and Bill and Marie Tucker of Custer, S.D. Great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Philip Van Blaricom of Salem, Ore. and Mrs. Catheran Both of Chicago.

Ask Dr Sven by Robert T. Sven B.S.D.D.S.

Question: At what ages do baby teeth usually appear?

Answer: Every baby's mouth is programmed differently and develops at its own rate; one baby's teeth could come in a bit earlier or later than those of other babies. The first teeth to poke through a baby's gums are the central incisors, the two top and bottom front teeth, usually between the fifth and eighth month, but even months later would be quite normal.

Next come the lateral incisors on either side of the front-center teeth. These usually pop out two at a time between baby's seventh and tenth month. First appear somewhere between a year and 16 months, cuspids a bit later but in the same time span, and second molars arrive between 20 and 32 months.

Girls' teeth tend to appear earlier than boys' but, because they are exposed longer, they also are somewhat more susceptible to decay. By the time your baby is three, he/she should have 20 teeth, 10 on the top, 10 on the bottom.
